

Phambili Safaris Hunting Transactions:

1. A day fee is charged for each day of the hunt. This will be charged even if no animals are hunted.
2. After the hunt, each hunter will sit down with the JAM/Phambili Operations Manager and review the final pricing for their hunt. This will include:
  - a. Day fees, rifle hire, and ammo used (other charges may apply, if applicable)
  - b. Price for each trophy animal hunted.
    - i. Please note that if an animal is wounded and lost the full trophy amount will still be payable.
  - c. A credit card fee, for the amount paid to Phambili.
  - d. A US NPO administration fee (10%), for the tax-deductible portion of the hunt.
3. Two payments will then be made:
  - 1) A credit card can be used to pay Phambili Safaris for 60% of the hunt price and the credit card fee.
  - 2) A donation can be made to Extreme Response International (<https://extremeresponse.org/us-donations/>) for 40% of the hunt price and the administration fee, designated to Jabulani Africa Ministries.
    - i. In compliance with IRS guidelines, contributions are made with the understanding that Extreme Response International, Tax ID 58-2610409, has complete discretion and control over the use of donated funds. Gifts are non-refundable and non-transferable. Unless otherwise stated, no goods or services were provided in exchange for this contribution.

*Note: If taxidermy and shipping are desired, this will be paid directly to the taxidermist, not to Phambili. The taxidermist should take a credit card for payment as well.

Example: If the a hunter shoots three trophy animals with a hired rifle, a 53” kudu ($3500), a blue Wildebeest ($1300), and a zebra ($1500), over a two day hunt the total cost of the hunt would be $7,686. Here is the breakdown of the payments:
